The MAC Air Rifle Shooter of the Month

The MAC Air Rifle Shooter of the Month is Allison Lashmet of SUNY Maritime University

Maritime had just one match this month, the annual Admirals Cup at USCGA, and Allison was SUNY's top shooter in both disciplines once again. Following an impressive performance in October, where she led the Privateers in all three league matches with scores of 558, 549 and 554, Allison shot a 548 at Coast Guard that helped her team take 2nd place (behind the host school) and in front of John Jay and USP. To wrap up the semester Allison also just set the all time Maritime air gun record with a 567 at the Big Apple trophy match at John Jay.

Allison hails from upstate NY near Albany and came to Maritime after spending a year in school in Oklahoma. She came to the team with no formal shooting experience and as a freshman was in the top 3 scorers at every one of our matches in Air gun (our only program that year)

With the resurrection of our smallbore program last year Allison learned the positions very quickly and was our top shooter in both disciplines in almost every match and was part of the MAC marksman class 3P championship team. Allison was named Rifle team MVP for 2012-2013

Allison is also the team captain this year and is studying Marine Business and Commerce as well as earning a Naval Deck license and has been on the Admirals List of cadets maintaining a 3.5+ GPA in every semester at school.

A few other activities she manages to keep busy with are:
